Gill's Farm History

Gill has a rich history of agriculture that has contributed to the town as we know it today. Today some 3,819 acres—42% of Gill's land—are associated with agricultural use. When Gill farms are supported, they can thrive and continue, keeping fields open and used by animals. Your support of Gill farms helps ensure that the beauty and rural character of our town will be present for generations to come.

How can you support Gill farms and farmers?

- Purchase products from Gill's farms at the locations identified in this brochure.
- Teach your children about the importance of Gill's farms.
- Talk to local farmers and learn what issues affect them.
- Vote and participate in town government in ways that support our farmers.
- Visit the Gill Historical Museum and see first-hand the rich farming history of our town.
